

CARSON'S CARNIVAL

Big Preparations Being Made to Hold a Rousing Celebration.

The prompt manner in which the people of Carson came to the center for the celebration of the National Day of American Liberty, has somewhat astonished her sister towns. Reno was the first to recognize the great head of steam we put on and concluded that it would not be wise to attempt a counter celebration. Some time ago she admitted that Carson was in the lead and sent word that she would come up here and help swell the general hilarity. She is now in line and straining every nerve to get some floats in the procession which will eclipse Carson's display, says the Appeal.

In addition to this she proposes to console herself with the Queen of the carnival. Well, she can have that also. If she has a longer sack than Carson. If our money holds out the Queen is coming from here.

It is clear that "the little town of Carson" has distanced all competitors in the race for a big celebration. We don't celebrate here often, but when we do all other celebrations in this end of the State take a back seat. It might be a good idea in future to take pattern after the Carson celebration and let Western Nevada celebrate in turn, in Carson, Reno and Virginia City take a hand in putting the American Eagle on the back and listening to its soul stirring scream.

One big celebration in each town, once every three years, will give better results than small celebrations annually. Carson proposes to make everybody who comes here in July tremendous welcome, and send them away impressed with the boundless hospitality of the Capital City.

HIGH SCHOOL SOCIAL.

Reception Tendered the Seniors by the Middle and Juniors.

Last evening a farewell reception was tendered the senior class of the Reno high school by the middle and junior classes.

The reception was given in the Riverside Club House. It was attended by a large number of students and a right royal time was had.

Dancing was the main feature of the evening's pleasures. E. E. Kirby was floor director. The managers were B. Francovich, E. Harrington, J. Perry and W. Martin.

During the intermission solos were sung by Miss Hepburn Michaels and George Ward. A recitation was given by Miss Annie Franden. At midnight refreshments were served.

DOINGS AT TONAPAH.

The Hawthorne Bulletin correspondent writes the following from Tonapah:

The last returns from ore shipped have been no good that everyone is happy, and we are certain of being able to make this camp a second Comstock. The returns are as follows: Dunlap, Douglas & Stewart, 302 ounces in silver and $75 gold; Brougher, 418 ounces silver and $75 gold; Dan Fitzpatrick 360 ounces silver and $56 gold.

The only drawback is the infernal climate. The wind blows a gale every other day, and the thermometer goes to the freezing point as often. Yesterday Butler Peak and the hills adjoining were covered with snow, and ice formed in the houses. But we don't care about little things like that, for good mines, good fellows and good money make everything lovely. Every once in a while some fellow comes in from the outside and wants to be back, but gets called down "pretty pronto" for it is the determination of the men here to make the people keep the peace. We have had no trouble so far and do not want any mine novel heroes with two or three six-shooters and a machete between their teeth shoot-in on the town. Almost all the men here have traveled and seen enough of that work to be tired of it, and are about as hard men as any had men ever run up against, so anybody coming must understand that they will make a good infusion of him if he don't behave. The roads are in good condition and the teams and stages come in on time. In a little while it will be possible for a man to find a bed to sleep in, but at present it is as hard to find a bed as a 40-carat diamond.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

Matthew Bray, an inmate of the Insane Asylum, committed suicide in a terrible manner. He threw himself in front of a train yesterday morning and was instantly crushed.

The deceased resided in Dayton. He developed suicidal mania (and was committed to the asylum) while working on the Carson River bridge. No other sign of insanity was noted except the mania to end his life.

Owing to this tendency he was kept in close confinement and carefully guarded until a few days ago. The confinement caused his health to fail and the patient became very depressed.

It was believed best to try him outside of the asylum and recently he was allowed to work about the grounds with the other patients.

Yesterday morning he was driving a cart, two attendants being within sight of him. The eastbound train whistled for the asylum crossing and the poor fellow sprang from the cart and ran swiftly to the track and threw himself under the swiftly moving train before the attendants could reach him.

Death was instantaneous. No blame should attach to the management of the institution. Dr. Dr. Patterson requested the Coroner to have the body removed to the Carson River bridge and requested that Coroner Perry hold an inquest over the remains, which was done.
